

artıs ארטיס ארטיס

Featured Artists

2008

Tamar Hirschl

Untitled (Deer 344)
Mixed media on paper
2005

Cultural Alarm
Symbiosis
Mizel Museum
January 31 – May 1
Denver, Colorado
www.mizelmuseum.org

Petri Dishes
The Annex
hosted by White Box
February 1 – February 15
curator@jazzminh.com

artıs ארטיס ארטיס

Founded in 2004, artıs is a private non-profit organization that supports Israeli contemporary artists and creates opportunities to develop dialogue and exposure for their work. Based in New York and Tel Aviv, artıs provides a portal to the discovery of Israel's cultural developments by highlighting the best Israeli exhibitions, performances, projects, and events throughout the world.

As we work toward our long-term goal of supporting Israeli culture at large, we are expanding our presence in New York and Tel Aviv and developing even more ways for artists, curators, writers, collectors, and enthusiasts to cultivate connections with Israeli art. Reflecting the spirit of the many artists we support, we believe in the power of art and culture to provoke new ideas and connections in Israel and beyond.

artıs facilitates exchanges between Israeli artists and the international art world to enrich discussion about the country's burgeoning contemporary art scene. We impart awareness of and support for Israeli art projects and exhibitions; host events and artist talks; award educational grants; and organize semi-annual curatorial trips to Israel. This year, we are proud to announce our support of solo shows by Sigalit Landau at the Museum of Modern Art (March, 2008) and Yael Bartana at P.S.1, as well as the development of an interactive online guide to Israeli contemporary art; the launch of an international artist residency program in Israel; and year-round exhibitions, tours, artist talks, and studio visits.

We welcome you to get involved – visit us at www.artisrael.org or contact us at info@artisrael.org

Sigalit Landau
Barbed Salt lamps
2007